

Fourteen will reign at the Senior Prom

Seniors will present their all-night prom on Friday, May 17

One week from tonight, May 17th, one senior girl and one senior boy will be crowned queen and king of the Senior Prom, 'Til We Meet Again. Members of the Class of 1963 will vote for their king and queen early next week in their home rooms.

The prom, which will be the final event of the class's social faire, will be highlighted by the crowning of the king and queen. The crowning will take place at 10:30 p.m. on the stage of the Indiana Club according to court committee chairman Barb Brugh. Marsha Perkins, senior class social chairman, will be hostess for the coronation. Class treasurer Dick Daffinee and coronation chairman Diane Tansey will crown the queen and king, respectively.

Court leads grand march

Immediately following the coronation, the king and queen and members of the court and the senior class officers will lead the grand march. Marsha Perkins and Tom Holmes are in charge of the grand march which will be directed by Mr. Donald Barnbrook, faculty sponsor of their committee.

Senior home room social chairman and class officers are working under the direction of school social chairman Miss Bertha Kiel and senior class sponsor Mr. Robert Gearhart to finalize their plans for the prom.

Shirley York and Steve Lester, class president, are working on a decoration scheme of pink and lavender to decorate the Indiana Club.

Ken Morris will play

Karen Wroblewski, chairman of the music committee, has contracted Ken Morris and his orchestra to furnish the music for the prom. The committee has polled the senior class for their selection of favorite songs.

DeGroff studios will take pictures of the students and their dates attending the prom. According to Diane Hutchins, student assistant to DeGroff's, junior girls will collect money for the pictures. Prints will be available for $1.50 a copy.

Practice for the grand march, the receiving, and the coronation will be held in the gymnasium on Tuesday, May 14th, for the members of the committee, class officers, and the court.

Premiere is at State

Immediately following the prom at the Indiana Club will be the post-prom party. It will consist of a movie premiere at the State Theatre and 12:30 p.m. The couples will be introduced as they enter the theatre lobby. From 3:00 to 6:00 a.m. a party will be held at the Moose Hall. Between the premiere and the party, seniors and their guests are expected to change into school clothes. Parents to encourage students living outside the city to make arrangements to change at the house of a friend. Dancing, breakfast, and door prizes as well as other types of entertainment will be presented.

Parents sponsor party

The after-prom party is sponsored by the parents of the senior class. The tickets may be bought from a representative in each home room. Tickets will be seventy-five cents per person. Seniors may come stag to the after-prom party or with other stags if for some reason their date cannot attend.

Flowers as well as white coats will be permitted at the prom. It is emphasized that they are permitted but not necessary.

Stonecipher, bass. Soloists will include Jane Hoffer, cello solo, the 1st Movement of the Götterman 4th Concerto for Cello; Brent McKesson. Jazz Improvisations on bass, accompanied by Mitch Farber (De Pauw University); and Dave Kottowski, a viola solo, the 1st Movement Viola Concerto in D Major, by Hoffmeister.

Senior issue planned

The Senior issue of the Riley HI-TIMES will appear on Monday, May 27th. It will contain fourteen pages of news, sports, senior articles, National Honor Society and junior class news. The issue will cost $.40 and must be ordered through the home room next week. This special issue containing numerous pictures will be compiled by the present staff members as well as the incoming staff.

Debaters take title

Riley's varsity debate squad left the Sunny Italy Cafe last Monday night with something new: a large silver cup that represented the championship trophy for the Indiana High School Forensic League's St. Joseph Valley conference. The debaters and speakers under the coaching of Mr. Charles Goodman amassed the highest point total in history to win the title.

The trophy, presented at the League's annual dinner, represents the debating version of the NIHS. Ballots of the entire year's debates, discussions, and speeches were opened at the dinner and the winner named. Mr. Goodman was in charge of the annual affair.

Brent McKesson delivered the final speech of the year for Riley, an after-dinner speech satirizing the South Bend political scene.

Honorable John Brademas, Member of Congress, was the keynote speaker for the dinner which included all six schools in the league. Mr. Brademas flew in from Washington for the dinner.

The dinner also honored the varsity debaters which include seniors Andrea Schuff, Brent McKesson, Dean Brown, Fred Rosenfeld, and junior Leonard Means.

Mr. Howard Crouse, Riley principal, also attended the affair along with members of the Riley English Department.

NHS Induction held; new officers elected at inductee breakfast

Yesterday, May 9th, the first induction of the National Honor Society for the Class of 1964 was held in the auditorium. Ray Wiegand, the society's vice-president, served as the Master of Ceremonies.

Qualities are explained

Kathy Horvath and Karen Crandall opened the assembly with the Pledge of Allegiance and a prayer, respectively. Kay Keller explained the history of NHS while Pam Hutson explained the emblem. Dean Brown, Jim Miller, Paula VanderHeyden, and Linda Mikel talked on leadership, service, character, and scholarship.

After the induction assembly, a breakfast was held in the cafeteria for the new inductees as well as for their parents, teachers, and senior members. At this time the National Honor Society officers for the 1963-64 year were elected, and pictures were taken.

Pins are awarded

The society is allowed to induct up to fifteen per cent of a class in the two inductions. Inductees are awarded pins and identification cards as well as having a sticker placed on their cumulative record cards. The next induction for the present junior class will be held in January of 1964.

Brown goes abroad

A Riley junior, Doug Brown, was selected for the Swedish Boy Scout Exchange Program to travel to Sweden with 27 other American Boy Scouts. The program also sends Swedish boys to the United States.

Doug will fly to Sweden sometime in July, and will stay for a month in the area around the city of Stockholm, Sweden. He and the other boys selected will make tours of Sweden and will also make stops at Copenhagen and London.

There were 27 openings for the trip in the United States and the Tri-Valley Council, which includes the South Bend area, was given 4 openings. The boys are selected by their service and record in the scouting program, and their financial condition.

Traveling with Doug will be seven boys from Chicago, seven from Milwaukee, and the rest from other parts of the country. Doug does not have any further information about his trip at the present time.

Glee Club and Orch. plan spring concert

On Thursday, May 23, "Accent Spring" will be presented by the Riley High School Orchestra and Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Harold Kottowski and Miss Ruby L. Guillems, respectively. For the past two years the orchestra has been awarded superior ratings in the state contests. The orchestra will play several numbers, featuring some of the senior players. The Glee Club will sing a variety of songs and there will be one number in which both groups will participate.

Included in the program will be a string quartet, Flanzoley Selection, played by Donna Hartman, violin; Sue Lattimer, violin; Margaret Keltner, cello; and Dave

What is Booster Day?

"Booster Club's sponsoring something else again today. Wonder what it's for?" These are probably similar to the thoughts of most of the student body. Few people realize that Booster Club organizes the activities but the student body is responsible for their success. The student body is also responsible for our school spirit, not just the Booster Club.

After the basketball sectional, school spirit seems to be a forgotten term. Probably no more than fifty students have been to a baseball game or track meet this season. Even worse is the fact that the student doesn't even recognize the athletes who participate as members of the three spring sports.

Conditions for the spectator participation for these sports may not be as good as the fall and winter sports but the athletes must make greater sacrifices. The purpose for Booster Day is an attempt to make the student body recognize and take interest in our baseball, golf, and track teams. Booster Club Council has planned it, but only you, the Student Body, can make it successful.

Andrea Shuff
Booster Club President

Open letter to students

If there is anything we have here at Riley that is conspicuous by its number (besides students) it is money-raising projects and drives. However, May 10th has been selected as the annual Riley Booster Day. This project has become a very worthy cause in the life of Riley. Its specific purpose is to attract well-deserved student recognition and financial support for our Spring athletes and their teams. In general, Booster Day promotes an atmosphere of unity and pride among all the students of Riley.

The Booster Club is proud to accept the aid and cooperation of the HI-TIMES staff again this year in sponsoring this fine undertaking. We can only hope that each Riley student will feel a little closer to the Riley scene and have a larger measure of pride in our school from having shared and participated in the Day's activities.

After the excitement and noise of the fall and winter sports have long departed, the third, final, and least recognized phase of our athletic program launches its ambitious schedules. No well rounded interscholastic athletic program could prosper without the traditional spring sports of track, golf, and baseball.

However, more than any other phase of the program, the spring sports are handicapped. First, the funds necessary to operate these three sports are solely dependent upon the whims of success in football and basketball, one or two losing seasons in these two major sports can have a devastating affect on the spring sports' budget. Moreover, how many of you have ever considered how much money Riley loses in gate receipts when the football team plays a home game on a rainy night? The Athletic Director and Baseball Coach can tell you.

There are several other factors that serve to hamper the spring program. These include lack of facilities (e.g., no track this year; no 'B' team baseball diamond in 1961), and inclement weather. Last but not least, our local news media seem to find it necessary to curtail high school sports coverage after the State Basketball Tourney. With the possible exception of track, spring sports do not rate the public interest and publicity they deserve. Public interest in Notre Dame spring football practice is difficult to overcome.

In conclusion, let it be said that every Riley student participates in and supports spring sports. Granted that time, weather, and facilities make it more than a little difficult to attend the meets and games, but here is one day (May 10th) that the student body can make the spring athlete well aware that we are proud of him and fully appreciate his contribution to the glory and name of James Whitcomb Riley High School.

A typical meeting?

By SUE HENDERSHOT

Have you ever wondered what actually goes on in a Booster Club meeting? Here are some excerpts from a typical, average, calm, organized melee. . . .

Our President announces that all our plans have to be changed. She explains, "We can't have the carnival on April 20 because Mr. Clayton may be drafted that day and couldn't be with us. So we agreed to have it on the 19th. Please change all other social events around this change."

Another change is May 12th, our Booster Day. Mr. Crouse said there are absolutely no baseball games on Sunday as the construction workers have their weekly picnic in the infield on that day.

Our student directories have not come in yet. We've been waiting two months, so they should be in just any day. If for some reason they don't come in this year we could always sell them next year at a discount. . . .

Booster Clubbers give pros and cons; opinions vary

By CYNTHIA CUMMINGS

A survey was recently taken on opinions of Booster Club and probably one of the most noticeable things indicated was a definite lack of knowledge of the purposes and activities of the Booster Club.

Kaylyn Pinney, a junior, comments, "Booster Club should be concerned with all activities within the school. I believe that its function is too concentrated to prove a worthy organization."

Booster Club needs more say-so

Sophomore Ellen Ray believes the club needs more activities and more say-so in the school. It needs the support of all members. She said that the club has often been criticized for not supporting all activities, but it is impossible for a few active members to support them all. This is why total support is necessary.

Organization is thought worthwhile

Juniors Cindy Shirrel and Kathy Lott both thought that Booster Club was very worthwhile due to the fact that it helps promote all school activities and brings in money for our sports as the S.O.S. Carnival did. The two also cited that the organization is good as long as everyone supports it.

Sue Malanchuk comments

"I think it's great. We have a good president and the club is doing better than ever before," was Sue Malanchuk's comment.

Seniors Mary Beckwith, Jim Miller, and Mike Hauser admit that although they do not know much about Booster Club, as far

ON THE AVENUE

Well, Rileyites, here it is, May 10th already (thank goodness!). It's time to snap out of that daze and begin to study for those finals that are approaching quickly. It seems that "Seniorities" has overcome the entire school, even the freshmen have been hit! With only twelve days of school left for the seniors, they have a good reason to be literally "sick of school."

O. T. A.

It seems that we have some really brilliant students at Riley. For instance, when Mr. Campbell asked a student what he knew about Pope John, the student hastily blurted out, "Well, he's Catholic!"

O. T. A.

Our dear Riley could not be more blessed. Our freshmen are the best around. Here are some examples of what they do; they fall into doors, over sidewalk cracks, upstairs, and downstairs. They run into people and doors, sit on pins in the library, and these are just a few examples. To complete this list just contact Melinda Moon, Marcia Witner, and Mary Jo Wiend.

as they can see it seems to be serving its purpose.

Richard Phelps, a junior, sums it all up by saying, "An organization of this type should guide the student spirit for all activities such as sports, music, etc. Each member should set an example by active participation in all extra curricular activities he may be in."

O. T. A.

Awarded this year, along with best picture of the year, best sound tracks, etc., is a new honor. It is the scrub-woman of the year. Here is the winner . . . Carol Witner. Receiving the award for Carol is Sally Shellhouse.

Sally and Bill gives service to Riley

Sally Shellhouse

By ELLEN HARTMAN

As vice president of Booster Club and a varsity cheerleader, senior Sally Shellhouse can observe Riley spirit first-hand. "There's always room for improvement in school spirit. It was exceptionally good, though, during football season; in fact, the best I've ever seen. But the boys should support the teams as much as the girls do." Sally has been a cheerleader at Riley since the seventh grade. She's also senior co-editor of the 1963 Hoosier Poet.

Michigan State University is included in her future plans. She is presently taking Sociology, Physics II, English VIII, and Economics to prepare her for college.

"When I was selected for varsity cheerleading, it was a thrilling moment. Equally thrilling were being elected to the senior prom court and winning the football conference and going to Hammond."

As for the traditional advice to underclassmen, Sally says: "Use your time wisely (like I never did!). Participate in extra-curricular activities, but not in so many that you can't do a good job and give your full service to one. Don't start a new job until you finish the old one."

Funny things happen to Sally all the time, obviously, as she comments, "Gee — so many crazy things have happened to me at Riley, that no one stands out from the rest."

She definitely describes her favorite quality in a person as sincerity. "I like sincere people. Sincerity is, to me, one of the most important qualities a person can have."

As vice president of Booster Club, she was able to make some observant and penetrating comments about it: "There's been a big step forward taken in having a smaller council and a larger club. It hasn't done away with all the problems, of course. We still need much more support of, and interest sports." Sally was president of freshman Booster Club and an active member of the Riley junior high Booster Club.

She was asked how the Booster Club could best be improved, and she thought a moment, then said, "We need more hard workers. You can get a few people to do a lot of work, but you can't get a lot of people to do a little work. We also need more interesting, money-making projects, and more interest in our club from the 10¢ card holders. When a card holder volunteers to work for a club project, he becomes an activity card holder. Members of the council are chosen by their interest and record of service in Booster Club by the officers of Booster Club."

Bill Bernhardt

By JERRY WALKER

Bill Bernhardt has been an active member of the Booster Club for two and a half years. He believes that Booster Club is a worthwhile and valuable activity.

Has been chairman

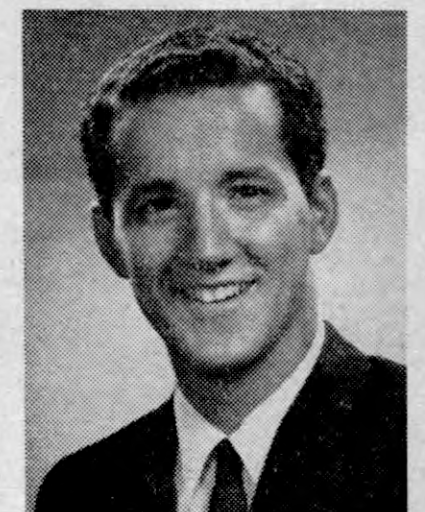

He has been chairman of many committees during this time, which include being head of the annual bonfire, the sale of Booster pins, and the miniature golf in the carnival.

Bill is presently taking Sociology, World History, Commercial Art IV, and Business. His majors are English, history, art, and business, and his minors are science and math. His future plans include the navy and then college where he will major in commercial art.

Advices study

Bill took an outside job between his sophomore and junior year, but he advises underclassmen to "study for college because it is the only way to get anywhere in our present day."

Viewing next year's Booster Club, Bill stresses the need for all students to promote school spirit. One way they can do this is through the support of the sale of cards and by striving to become an active member, aiming toward the honor of the Booster Club Council.

Booster Club has initiated many new ideas; officers tell of "uniting the student body"

By PAM PEARSON
The backbone of any organization is its leaders. Booster Club is no exception. Throughout the past year, Booster Club has initiated many new ideas and has helped boost school spirit. Under the leadership of its officers and sponsor, Booster Club continued as an influential figure in the life of Riley.

"One of the most successful accomplishments was the fine school spirit and enthusiasm of our fabulous football season," commented President Andie Shuff. "The bonfire and bus trip to Hammond highlighted the season because they helped unite the students into one ambitious, spirited body."

"I would like to see more night meetings for all card holders and a more tactful way of selecting Council members."

Andie feels her office has brought her closer to the school and the students. She became aware of the many behind the scene decisions and learned what real responsibility is. She was glad that she could do something for the school and added, "It was fun!"

Vice-President Sally Shellhouse shared Andie's opinion of our fine football season and beanie sale. She also felt the carnival was very successful.

"I would like to see more ACTIVE members in council who support all school activities themselves as well as just encouraging others to support them. I think better cooperation within the council is imperative."

Even though the office of Vice-President is a silent job, Sally learned to be on guard at all times and to be ready to take over the President's duties if necessary. She feels her job helped her understand and work with people and gave her the opportunity to give her time and support to sports and activities.

Secretary Sue Ryan feels that "The Student Directory Sale went well along with the carnival. This year's club did a lot to back minor sports."

Sue thinks the Booster Club Council should be a more select group, not a lower number, but a group of students not so busy with other activities who can devote more time to Booster Club. She hopes next year's club will keep up the pace they set this year.

"The beanie sale was real good and was very influential in building school spirit around Sectional time," remarked Treasurer Marg Bintinger. "The Booster Buttons were real cute and also boosted spirit." In her opinion, the Directory Sale and S.O.S. Carnival were good projects.

Spring sports have potential to take state

Rileyites have seen this year a successful football and basketball seasons. With the spring sports now on the scene many of us are wondering how the spring sports season will be.

"Riley has a good chance of winning the baseball conference because of the good pitching staff, especially Dick Newport," commented first baseman Frank Neville.

"The team (track) is poor this year because we lost a lot of lettermen," stated sophomore cinderman Mike Frame. "The team needs quite a bit of improvement, and we don't have enough seniors."

Tom Lindenman, a sophomore, says, "I think the only explanation for our defeats has been a lack of experienced material since we have only two returning lettermen in track."

Turning to golf, Skip Helm thinks "the team is well balanced and has a good chance of winning state." Skip feels the only team that will be hard to beat will be LaPorte. If Riley beats LaPorte, he feels they could win the state.

Fred Biggs believes that "the team is better than last year's and I think the team will improve by the time of the state tourney. I also feel strongly that we will win the sectional contest."

Pitcher Dick Newport feels that "Riley's baseball team has a good chance of taking the conference even though it's the toughest in the area."

Carpenters' union strikes; building halted

By RICHARD C. BALOUGH
Last summer a plumbers' strike delayed construction at Riley. Now the construction on the new additions may be halted for some length of time due to the strike of 648 members of the Carpenters Local 413 against the General Building Contractors Association of South Bend.

The carpenters went off the job Monday for higher pay after negotiations broke down. The original contract expired on April 1st, but at that time a 30-day extension was added thus delaying the strike until May 1st.

Roy Klein, the president of the Local, stated that the major stumbling block was wages. He commented, "Due to the fact that carpenters are one of the lowest paid skilled trades in the area, we are attempting to offset inequities by asking an extra 10 cents an hour over a three-year period."

The president of the contractors' association said that the union is trying for more than the "pay increases accepted by other unions."

The mediators are optimistic and are hoping for a quick settlement.

Latin Club holds Floralia

By CONNIE MESSERLY
In accordance with their annual tradition, the Latin Club under the advisoryship of Miss Elizabeth Noble, adorned all the rooms of the school with flowers on May 7, 1963.

Besides all of the classrooms, the various offices, the janitor's office, the laundry, the furnace room and the ticket office were decorated with lilacs, tulips, and other spring flowers.

A special basket is annually prepared in memory of soldiers who died in World War II that were affiliated with Riley.

President Ingrid Hirschfeldt and the other officers, Jim Crowe, Beverly Wright, Larry Tolle, Brent

Klinger, and Judy Eads, were working as chairmen.

The areas were divided by floors and directions; such as first floor East, first floor West. Each chairman had one of these areas under his authority.

Mr. Howard Crouse, our principal, complemented the Latin Club members and expressed his thanks for "the pleasantness brought to the entire school during the annual Latin Floralia."

Hi-Times Sports Editor

Its about time: Curtis Crittendon was named to the All-Star basketball squad. Now that all the southern athletes have made the team, the sports writers decided that maybe someone from the north was eligible. It is our opinion that he should have been named quite a while ago.

C. T.

One time last year, this column carried a story that caused quite a rucus. Anyway our teams need a shot in the arm again.

Riley has never won the all-sports trophy and Central seems to have managed to win at least 13 times. Is there any good reason why Central, and not Riley, should win it this year? We can't win the trophy with the effort we claim to be putting out now.

C. T.

As we pointed out last week, only first places in baseball and golf will win that trophy for Riley after 10th place in the conference for the track team. After dropping two conference baseball games, and LaPorte downing the golfers, that trophy can be seen gleaming in the standing leader Central trophy case.

City baseball tourney plans progress

Golfers bow to LaPorte; rebound at Mishawaka

Riley's golfers bowed to LaPorte's Slicers for the second straight time this season as Charlie Boyd of LaPorte was medalist for the Slicers and the meet with a 75.

Following Boyd were Mike Hoke, Kenny Young and George Kuhn who had 80, 81, 86, respectively. Their total was 312.

Nemeth medalist

Andy Nemeth carded an 80 for Riley as he took medalist honors for the losing Wildcats. Trailing Andy were Skip Helm 82, Mike Lampsa 84, and Fred Biggs 84. Their total was 322.

The following Friday, Riley traveled to Dryer, Indiana to compete in the annual Dryer invitations. Nemeth again led the field for Riley with a 75 and took meet honors with the same score. Fred Biggs, Skip Helm, and Jim Peterson shot scores of 78, 82, 83, but the bad part of the surprise was Michigan City who edged the Wildcats by one stroke.

City wins

City narrowed it down on the eighteenth hole for their win.

Monday, May 6, Riley played host to Plymouth and Niles. Fred Biggs was medalist for the winning Riley cause.

Biggs returned as medalist Tuesday to lead the 'Cats in a win over Mishawaka and St. Joe. Biggs carded a 73 for the course. He was followed by Skip Helm, Mike Lampsa, and Andy Nemeth with 74, 74, and 76.

Riley's cindermen ran their record to 0-7 last Friday in a 68-41 dual meet loss to Washington. This meet was originally scheduled for Tuesday, but was postponed due to inclement weather.

Riley's winners wore Bob Kletka in the 220, John Johnson in the 880, Dave Stonecipher in the shot put, and Mike Frame in the high jump. Both relays were lost by scant margins.

The tracksters had a dual scheduled with Central Tuesday, plus two remaining dual meets, Michigan City and Adams. The team runs in the sectional tomorrow at Mishawaka and in the Penn Relays May 14.

Bee's record at 6-4

By BRUCE HILDEBRAND

Late last week, the B-team under the direction of Coach Richard Thompson posted two victories, the first over LaPote 6-2 and a second 2-1 decision over Adams. The win, and a later loss to Mishawaka put the "B" record at six wins and four losses.

Drop LaPorte, Adams

Triples by Tim Nevelle, Frank Bognuia, and Tom Cachim powered the B-team over the LaPorte Slicers. John Nelson, with a record of two wins and one loss, won the game.

Mitch Zultanski collected two runs to lead the B-Cats in a come from behind victory over Adams behind the pitching of Tom Byers the next day.

Loss to Maroons

Mishawaka cashed in on a four-run third inning to drop the Wildcats 4-3 on May 3. George Dunlap was charged with the loss.

a record set by the Wildcats last season.

Riley travels to LaPorte to compete in the annual LaPorte Invitational today and are ranked as co-favorites with the host Slicers.

Schedule six doubleheaders

Greene Township and Washington-Clay, most recent additions to the South Bend Community School Corporation, will join the "big four" locals in the 1963 version of the City Baseball Tourney scheduled for May 16, 17, 20, and 22. When invited guests Mishawaka and St. Joseph join the field, an eight team tourney will be in store.

Bendix Park will be the sight of this years tourney that will be played over a four day schedule.

Riley meets Washington

Plans call for the tournament, which was won by Adams last year, to be played over a schedule of six double headers. Riley plays in the second game of the May 16 double bill meeting Washington at 8 p.m. Central and St. Joseph tangle in the first game at 6.

Clay meets defending champion Adams in the first game the following night and Greene and Mishawaka clash in the second contest.

Semi-finals scheduled

Semi-final rounds are planned for May 20 and the finals will be held Wednesday, May 22. All games are dependent upon the weather which in the past has not favored the tourney.

Mishawaka, undefeated in the eastern division NIHS, should be a possible winner in the tourney and behind the pitching of Rich Witkowski can send Greene to their doom.

Central, with one of the finest pitching staffs in the area, will meet tough opposition in St. Joseph who sports an 8-3 record.

Riley can knock off Washington with their pitching staff, but whether they will or not is left to speculation.

Adams will be facing a tough, but probable losing Clay team.
