Gerry Writes to Riley

Gerry Zepeda Bermudez, Riley's exchange student last year from Honduras, sent Mrs. Margaret Cassidy the following letter which he hoped the entire student body would be able to read in the Hi-Times.

Dear Friends,

It's been already seven months since I left South Bend, and you can't imagine how much I miss everybody still. My year in the U.S. was a fantastic year full of great experiences. It taught me many useful things I didn't know before which I'll never forget. I appreciate everything you did for me and all the good times I had.

The 9th of February I'll be leaving Honduras to study civil engineering in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The distance between South Bend and me will be about three times as much as it is now, but in my heart all of you will be closer than ever.

I'd like to take this opportunity to send my best regards to a person that I unfortunately didn't get to meet while I was in Riley H.S. She is the foreign exchange student from Greece to whom I wish the best of luck during her year in the lovely city of South Bend. I'd also like to send a special greeting to my dear American sister Wendy Moeller and to the whole Moeller family including my dear old Spotty.

To all the administration and the faculty members, I thank you for your kindness to me and for everything I learned from you which I'm sure will always be of great value.

To the whole student body, I'm sending a warm, Latin-American greeting especially to those of you with whom I got better acquainted. I'd be very glad to hear from any of you. For anyone who wants to write to me, my new address is: Gerardo Zepeda Bermudez, Rua Correa Dutra 29, Apt. 402, Flamengo, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Good luck to everybody! Love always,

Gerry

Junior Achievement in his senior year at Riley in addition to his classes, which are English IV, government and international relations, speech, and algebra and trigonometry. Denny has had many valuable experiences in his years at Riley, and he gives the following advice to freshmen: Work hard, but acquire many "Brownie Points" as they prove very helpful through your four year program at Riley. Eat, drink and be merry for you may be dead tomorrow.

Class Tours Furniture Store

Mrs. Marcia McConnell's first and third hour family living classes cruised through the J. E. Walz furniture store on S. Michigan Street, Wednesday, Jan. 24.

Mr. John Walz and Mrs. June Lyons (Jim Lyons' mother) took the classes through the store explaining the various styles and periods of furniture. The classes liked the new "mod" furniture which is the "square look", shipped from California.

Actors Working in Auditorium

If you should happen to look into the auditorium, you would find 22 persons working hard on the spring musical. The musical this year will be Blossom Time, the story of Franz Schubert. In the show Franz Schubert, played by Paul Jones, falls in love with Mitzi Kranz, played by Sue Nimtz, but loses her to his best friend, Baron Fray Shaber, played by Gary Murray.

Others in the cast include Mr. Kranz played by Dennis Terry; Mrs. Kranz, played by Judi Stein and Regina Zar; Faltzi and Kitzi Kranz, played by Jeanne Dietel and Bonnie Hostetler; Binder, played by Dave Beveridge and Pat Tyler; Erknon, played by Mary Olson; Bellabruna, played by Ruth Ann Beehler; Count Schrontoff, played by Bob Soss; Guts, played by Helen Henry; Noventy, played by Wally Jessup; Vogol, played by Dennis Gay; Von Schivind, played by Marco Lopez; Kuppelvish, played by Rick Williams and Jeff Thompson; Rosi, played by Liz Dettrich; Mrs. Corburg, played by Janet Johnson, and the waiter, played by Dan Chambliss and McCullough Tabb.

Blossom Time will be given March 7, 8, 9 in the Riley auditorium. The show is being directed by Mr. James Lewis Casaday. Mr. Rocco Germano is the musical director.

D.E.'ers Take Trip

A bus load of Distributive Education students left Riley at 7:15 a.m. on Jan. 15 and headed for Chicago. The main purpose for the trip was to see a variety of merchandise.

We arrived in Chicago about 9:00 a.m. and arrived at the merchandise mart about 9:30. We toured the merchandise mart from 9:45-11:00. The mart is the largest retail buyers' market in the world. It is 18 stories high, and is owned by Joseph Kennedy. The first three stories are open to the public, and the remaining 15 stories are open to the buyers only. Then there is also very tight security on the private floors. Our class was allowed the privilege of visiting all floors with a guide.

From 11:00 on the day was ours until 4:00. My friends and I ate lunch at The Roma's restaurant, State and Madison Sts. At about 2:30 p.m., Dave, Denny and I went to Old Town, on Wells St. I met a lot of Hippies. The first impression I got of them is that they are drop-outs, and they smelled with BO. Their hair was down to their shoulders, and we could hardly tell girls from boys.

Overall it was as educational and enjoyable as a field trip could be. The bus left the depot at 4:15 and we arrived in South Bend about 6:00 P.M. The bus let us off in front of school, and from there until I got home I was thinking of another trip next year.

Seniors Cadet Teach

By Debbie Hammer

Cadet teachers have an exciting semester ahead! I, along with 21 other students will be busy getting experience which will give us an idea of what teaching on our own will be like. Some of us may even change our minds about going into a teaching career.

I chose teaching as a career because I love being around children, playing and working with them, and trying to understand why they do the things they do. I'm very happy when I'm around small children and this is why I am taking up Cadet Teaching. I will be Cadet Teaching at the first grade level under Mrs. Betty Karns at Studebaker. Also at Studebaker is Vicki Guisinger, who is teaching at the fourth grade level under Mrs. Dettrich (Gary's mother).

Other Cadet Teachers are David Davis, teaching science at Oliver; Liz Lovas, teaching a foreign language at Monroe; Doris Paar, teaching gym at O'Brien; Linda Nyari, teaching math at Oliver; Marlene Pozil, teaching fifth grade at Lafayette; Charles Swihart, teaching at Lincoln; Dennis Shultz, teaching English at Lincoln and Judy Earhart, teaching at Monroe.

Others are Onya Cronk, teaching first grade at Monroe; Sue Acton, teaching third grade at Hamilton; Barb Ziker, teaching fourth grade at Lincoln and Judy Hoover teaching kindergarten at Monroe.

Sharon Adams will be going to Morris School; Cindy Ginter will teach third grade at Lincoln; Betty Smith has started at Our Lady of Hungary and Kathy Mielke will teach sixth grade at O'Brien. Vickie Hendricks will be teaching junior high English at Monroe, Mike Trefun will be working at the sixth grade level at Lincoln, Judi Whisman will be working with ninth and tenth grade students in gym at Riley, and Becky Wolfe will teach the fourth grade at O'Brien.

Fashion Show Held

Miss Martha Frueh's advanced third year tailoring class held a fashion show Monday, Jan. 22, 1968. The girls had made suits, coats or dresses.

Dawn Peters modeled a blue, white and lavender plaid dress with a blue tailored coat and hat. Sue Jackson made a white wool suit trimmed in black. She embroidered her initials on the outfit. Another student wearing a suit was Georgia Radman, who had a gold and brown checked suit. Miss Radman used dark brown suede to complement her suit.

Diane Baney also used suede with her brown and white outfit. Cheri Dobrzykowski made a multi-colored plaid tailored suit. Other participants in the fashion show were Clara Wioniewski, Marty Pozil, Josie Fair, Eileen Meszaros, Shirley Ross, Darlene Lewis, and Shirley Rozewicz. For their next project, the girls are working on draperies.
